Re: United States of America v. South Fallsburg, Ltd., et al.,
No. 08 Civ. 0218 (CLB) (LMS)

Dear Judge Brieant:

This Office represents the plaintiff in the above-referenced action. I write to confirm, per my telephone conversation with Ms. Cama this morning, that the initial conference scheduled for tomorrow morning has been adjourned, and that the United States will instead file its motion for a default judgment on or before April 4, 2008.

Ms. Cama also directed me to notify the defendant that the initial conference has been postponed. As I explained, however, I have no way to do so in time for the notice to be meaningful. The only addresses I have for the defendant are an address in Michigan (which, in any case, appears not to be the defendant's address anymore) and defendant's agent of service in Albany. I will send this letter to those addresses via overnight mail, but they will not receive it in advance of the scheduled conference. I also have no telephone, facsimile, or electronic mail address for the defendant.
